

Deborah,

I had to share Regan's great news with you.

This morning she went to an audition for a video that the Church of Scientology is producing. They were auditioning ballerinas for their video. Regan's audition was at 10:35 and she was awesome. The casting director came out and told me immediately that Regan would definitely be one of the little ballerinas hired for the video because she was "so beautiful, so graceful and such an amazing little dancer". Regan was beaming and giggling all the way to the car and wanted me to send you an email immediately!

This is the first time that Regan has ever been hired on the spot...thanks to you for all of your instruction and patience!

I will try to get a copy of the video. Regan's part shoots on Thursday!!!

Take good care and see you real soon,
Bonnie & Regan
